

INTERNET WRITERS IRL

Thank you for joining us tonight on the occasion of our very first Tumblr reading. For what we plan to be the next hour but will indubitably go for much longer, 12 of your favorite Tumblr writers will get up on stage, share their work, and attempt to entertain you without the help of a computer monitor or the Like button. We hope you like it, we hope you blog about it, and we hope you leave feeling a little bit better about the Internet.

TUMBLR

A revolutionary social blogging platform founded by David Karp in New York City just three years ago. Easy to use and completely customizable, Tumblr welcomes over 500k new users every month to share the things they do, find, love, hate, think, or create.

Housing Works Bookstore Cafe is a nonprofit bookstore, cafe, and event space located in Soho. We host readings, concerts, panels, parties, stand-up comedy, spelling bees, trivia nights, and more. All proceeds from every show you attend and everything you buy, down to a record and a PBR, go directly to our mission of fighting AIDS and homelessness.
